

BUTLER DEPOSED AS QUARTER FOR CORNELL

O'Conner to Act as General in Football Struggle with Pennsylvania To-day.

TWO MEN CHANGE PLACES

Dan Reed Makes Eleventh Hour Shift in an Effort to Beat the Quakers and Get Revenge.

Eddie Butler, quarterback and clever drop kicker of the Cornell football eleven, has been deposed as field general on the very eve of the yearly struggle with Pennsylvania on Franklin field, Philadelphia, to-day. O'Conner will play quarterback and give the signals, while Butler will play halfback, with R. B. Whyte as a running mate.

This information comes to me from a source that cannot be disputed. Dan Reed, head coach of the eleven, faced a problem after Cornell's defeat by Chicago that was hard to solve, but he went about it in a characteristic way, succeeded in restoring it to its normal condition. Not satisfied with this, however, he went further, and has not only relieved Butler, who has kicked seven goals from the field this year, of command, but has promised to send Williamson to tackle in place of Champain, and Hill to fullback in place of Underhill, unless their work in the first period justifies his confidence, now partially restored, but which had been rudely shaken.

As exclusively published in The Tribune and as indicated in my comment of last Monday the Cornell coaches were far from satisfied with the play, and more particularly the attitude of some of the players against Chicago, and this eleventh hour change on the day before Cornell's most important game of the season indicates clearly what strenuous measures were necessary to rouse the team and cure it of the disastrous feeling of overconfidence.

One Victory for Cornell.

Under the circumstances my own confidence in the eleven has been shaken more or less, and there appears to be less chance than there was two weeks ago for any interruption of Pennsylvania's annual Thanksgiving Day feast. Way back in 1901 Cornell defeated Pennsylvania on Franklin field. In 1906 a tie game was played, but otherwise the Quakers have trampled all over the men from Ithaca, although on several occasions it seems to me with a team not any stronger, if as strong. The eleven have faced each other eighteen times. One victory is not much to boast of in all this period, and it seems a pity that Dan Reed should have been forced to take such drastic action in a year when the chances looked brighter than usual.

Pennsylvania has been beaten four times this season. Brown, Pennsylvania State, the Carlisle Indians and Michigan took the measure of the Quakers. It does not follow, however, that the team has not found itself—in fact, everything points to its being stronger and better to-day than at any time this year. It must beat Cornell to save the season from utter failure, and the men will back up Captain Mercer with their full strength and spirit.

Cornell has suffered two defeats this season at the hands of Pennsylvania State and Chicago. It has shown indications of great power, however, and the players under the lash are quite likely to rally this afternoon and show their true worth. They will not lack for support and, so far as can be learned, they realize the mistakes of the past. Cornell defeated Michigan, which in turn defeated Pennsylvania, but on this day the teams to-day are remarkably well matched. Cornell, however, made a better showing against Pennsylvania State than the Quakers did, and for that reason there was some ground to believe that the time had come for a day of celebration in Pennsylvania—a day that has been so long delayed. All things considered, however, there is little now on which to base a prediction, and I beg the question, although if I felt disposed to wager I would cast my lot with the men from Ithaca, in spite of the last hour shift, in which O'Conner and Butler change places.

O'Conner Has Had Experience.

In discussing the change yesterday a Cornell man said: "O'Conner is not new to the position at quarterback. In the game with Pittsburgh in mid-season O'Conner commanded the eleven during the second half. He did the work with a pleasing snap, in marked contrast to Butler's more conservative method. O'Conner won many admirers, and although public sentiment possibly had been applauded the change at that time all thought of such procedure was abandoned. "Practice has been secret for some time before we left Ithaca, but even had it been open to the public it is doubtful if the most attentive and regular observer could have read what was in the minds of the coaches. Every man was tried out after the Chicago game, exactly as if it had been the first week of the season. We were not exactly in an unsettled frame of mind, as that procedure would indicate, for we looked upon O'Conner as a good possibility, but we were not sure. 'Dixie' Smith ran O'Conner a close race, and should it be considered advisable to relieve the quarterback to-morrow Smith will take O'Conner's place. "Butler is an exceptionally good football player and an exceptionally fine man in the eyes of the coaches. He was not satisfied with his work at quarter in recent games, and with a man of O'Conner's ability available they took advantage of what appeared to be a better choice. Butler goes in at left half, the position made vacant by O'Conner's shift, and we expect to see him play a remarkably fine game."

Teams Appear Well Matched.

Individually there appears to be little to choose between the two eleven. Pennsylvania has a fullback in Captain Mercer who has few equals on the gridiron to-day, and who is a likely candidate for the All-American team. Cornell, on the other hand, has an end in "Butch" Eyrich who, in my opinion, ranks with the best and who also by his play to-day may earn All-America or All-Eastern honors. Captain Munk, too, is quite likely to prove himself one of the best tackles of the season. Pennsylvania has a good pair of ends in Jourdan and Young, although they are not likely to shine at the expense of Eyrich and Fritz, their Cornell opponents. The other forwards, outside of Captain Munk,

WOLGAST UNDER KNIFE

ON EVE OF BIG BOUT

Lightweight Champion Operated On for Appendicitis and Doing Well.

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—Stricken suddenly with acute appendicitis at 3 o'clock this morning, Ad Wolgast, the lightweight champion boxer of the world, underwent an operation here to-day on the eve of his 29-round battle with the British challenger, Freddie Welsh, to-morrow. The operation apparently was successful, but the patient will be in the hospital for ten days or two weeks, and for three months his surgeons have warned him he must not put on a boxing glove.

TO MEET CRAFTY INDIANS

Brown Practices Special Formations for To-day's Game.

Providence, Nov. 29.—Brown and the Carlisle Indians await the word to get into the fray on Andrews field to-morrow morning in what promises to be the sharpest battle for the mastery that the home team has faced this season. To all outward appearances both teams are in the best of physical condition. On a wide field at Bristol, whether the entire Brown squad went last night for a full rest, final practice was carried on this afternoon by the Brunonians, the drill consisting of running through signals formulated to cover the new plays and special formations.

REFUSES BOXING LICENSE

Commission Turns Down Knickerbocker A. C. of Albany.

The State Athletic Commission refused yesterday to grant a license to the Knickerbocker Athletic Club of Albany, whose case has been before the commission for some time. The club, which conducted boxing under the membership law, was represented by counsel and supported by several witnesses, but after a stormy discussion and presentation of facts which lasted for longer than two hours, the commission turned down the petition. Further details of the commission's stand on the matter were not announced. The commission granted a license to the Onondaga County Athletic Club of Utica to hold and conduct boxing bouts.

SCHEDULE FOR WESELEYAN FIVE

A. F. Haus, manager of the Wesleyan University Basketball Association, has announced the schedule for the coming season. Twelve games have been arranged, seven of which will be played on the home court. The schedule is as follows: January 6, Rhode Island State College at Middletown; 12, Springfield Training School at Middletown; 20, Dartmouth at Hanover; N. H.; February 9, Colgate at Hamilton, N. Y.; 16, Union at Schenectady; 17, Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Middletown; 21, Williams at Middletown; 24, Brown at Providence; 28, New Hampshire State College at Middletown; March 2, Williams at Williamstown, Mass.; 6, Dartmouth at Middletown; 9, Brown at Middletown.

DOOM NOT STICK TO PHILLIES.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 29.—The effort of Charles Dooin, manager of the Philadelphia club, to secure his release, so that he might acquire partial control of the Boston Club, resulted to-day in a telegram from President Fogel of the Phillies, which Dooin received here. The message stated that Fogel would consider no deal which would mean Dooin's departure.

CROUSE-BROWN BOUT OFF.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 29.—The bout between "Buck" Crouse, of Pittsburgh, and "Knock-out" Brown, of New York, scheduled here for to-night, has been called off because of the illness of Crouse.

Pennsylvania Team Far in the Lead

Pennsylvania and Cornell have met at football eighteen times and Cornell has only one victory and one tie game to her credit. The record follows:

KENNEDY BY A SHADE

Earns Popular Decision Over Palzer at Royale A. C.

BOUT FAST AND FURIOUS

Loser Shows Skill and Stamina Which Would Have Counted in a Longer Contest.

Tom Kennedy, a clever, shifty boxer, won the popular decision over Al Palzer, a plumping, bruising fighter of the Tom Sharkey type, at the Royale A. C., of Brooklyn, last night. The bout was a slasher and the margin of victory slight, but Kennedy was the victor.

M'FARLAND THE FAVORITE

Fight with Tommy Murphy Attracts Much Attention.

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—Although local fight followers refuse to concede that "Harlem Tommy" Murphy will seriously manhandle M'Farland, the latter's championship aspirations when the two face each other to-morrow afternoon, they will turn out in big numbers to witness the twenty-round exhibition. The cancelling of the Wolgast and Welsh fight at Los Angeles has increased interest in the bout.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY RUNNERS

Likely to Face Starter.

A field made up of one hundred and fifty or more runners is expected to start in the fifth annual Thanksgiving Day Marathon race of the Mercury Athletic Club of Yonkers. The men will line up in Getty Square, Yonkers, at 12:30 o'clock and cover a course of twenty-five miles, sixteen of which will be over the roads of Westchester County and the last nine on the Empire City racetrack. The Mayor will fire the starting gun. Canada and the West will be represented this year.

RICE ON LAWN TENNIS TEAM.

Melbourne, Australia, Nov. 29.—It is announced here to-day that Rice will replace Lyett on the Australian team for the defence of the Dwight D. Davis international lawn tennis cup. Brookes, Dunlop and Heath are the other members of the team.

TEST FOR ITALIAN WRESTLER.

Yankee Rogers, the heavyweight wrestler, of Buffalo, has been selected as one of the six opponents to go against Giovanni Raicovich, the Italian wrestler, for the contest in Madison Square Garden December 6. Rogers has won numerous handicap contests from Frank Gotch, and if the remaining five men to be selected are of the same calibre, Raicovich will have to be a wonder to defeat them all within two hours.
